are now dead as a result of the riots between white men and negro soldiers

Southern California Fiesta.
Unusual efforts are being made by a great number of citizens to make the forthcoming Fiesta eclipse all preceding similar events, in gorgeous-ness and splendor. Magnificent floats are already completed and are the most beautiful ever constructed for such a fest. Entries for the floral parade are going to be unusually numerous and promise to be exceedingly beautiful.
The Times wishes to do its part in letting the world know we can do big things here and do them right, and no expense will be spared in printing The Times Special Fiesta Number, to make it a handsome paper, and a credit to Southern California.
It is the best evidence you can send your friends that Los Angeles and Southern California were unharmed by the recent terrible disaster to the northern part of the State. Price 12c, postage prepaid, to any address in the United States, Canada or Mexico, or the paper for the four days of the Fiesta, including this special issue, will be sent to any address, postage prepaid, for 35c.
Send in your orders early, to facilitate a prompt delivery. The price of the Fiesta Number, not including postage, will be 10 cents per single copy, or 15 cents for a few days.

that several arrests will be made to- day. Detective Talmantes refused to state last night that the woman was murdered, but when pressed he also declined to state that it was not a murder.
Suspicion was at first attached to William Ward, who was employed about the Algeria place for five years, and was discharged only a few days before the woman disappeared. He has been located, however, and has been able to prove that at the time the woman dropped from eight he was in Santa Barbara. Last night the de- tective stated that no suspicion now attaches to him.

TALKS ON ADVERTISING
Why We Advertise

When a doctor won't take his own medicine, it's time to send for the coroner.

We believe in advertising, not because other people do but because we are spending over one hundred thousand dollars yearly in Los Angeles newspapers, and every client on our list is making money through our efforts.

Experiments are all right, but it's best to let the other fellow try them.

As a result of experience in hundreds of diversified campaigns we know a good many things not to do and a few other things that usually make our advertisements peculiarly successful.

We're advertising today because we want a chance to talk with you.

INDIANS THIRST FOR REVENGE.
COCOPAH RESENT KILLING OF THEIR COMRADE.

Two Hundred Quit Work Near Phoenix, Many of the Bucks Favoring Going on the Warpath at Once to Avenge Shooting Which Officer Claims to Have Been Accidental.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES)
PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 15.—For a while last week there was uneasiness at Yuma, owing to the threatening attitude of a couple of hundred Cocopah Indians, who, encamped in the river bottom, below the town, seemed to be making "war medicine."

The trouble was over the killing.
April 23, of a Cocopah by Officer Tigracino Molina, who had been trying to break up a debauch in an Indian camp, and, incidentally, to arrest the men who had been selling the liquor.
He said that the fatal bullet was not fired with intention to kill, his foot catching on a root as he shot. The same bullet smashed a bottle of whisky that the Indian was hugging to his heart.

Though a Coroner's jury exonerated the officer, he has been rearrested and held under bail for later examination.
This action has been taken largely in deference to the wishes of the Mexican government, for the Cocopahs are Mexican Indians, and as citizens of the sister republic, have appealed to the Mexican Consul at Yuma for investigation of their grievances.

In the tribe are about 3000 members.
The 200 now camped near Yuma are largely from the Laguna dam, where almost every Indian employed quit work as soon as the news of the killing reached them. They have been led by a number of chiefs of the tribe from down the river and their life of late has been devoted to a ceaseless pow-wow.

Many of the bucks were in favor of going upon the warpath at once, revengeing the blood of their comrades by the destruction of Yuma, but more peaceful counsels appear to have prevailed. One of the peacekeepers has been John Middleberry, the gigantic wrestler, who has gone back to his people after a conquering tour against the athletes of Southeastern Arizona.

The Mexican Consul at Yuma, Carlos
P. Pasmagua, has made an exhaustive investigation of the affair and is in communication with the foreign office of his government.

The Cocopahs have borne an excellent name in the past for peacefulness and industry, having been considered one of the best of the southwestern tribes.

JENKS JURY DISAGREES.
In the District Court, a hung jury has been the result of the trial of Hallie Jenks, charged with manslaughter. Miss Jenks was the nurse at the Territorial Asylum for the Insane who experimented with a cloth saturated with turpentine as a novel anesthetic. The only patient she tried it upon was Sadie Jones, a violent case, lately arrived from Blaine.
When the experiment was done, the Jones woman was quiet, for she had died.

Expert testimony upon the stand appeared to disprove the theory that the turpentine caused death. Dr. Wiley, formerly chief of turpentine as a novel anesthetic, as well as the woman, through discolored habits of the worst kind, had no wrecked her nervous system that even a trivial shock might have caused death.

Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1935, the rate for Sunday "Liners" will be raised to 1/4 cent per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. No Pay Unless Cured

Our Special Offer In view of there being so many afflicted with private chronic and pelvic diseases who have treated with quack specialists and inexperienced physicians without receiving any benefit, we have decided to make a special offer to charge only one-half of our regular fee for those who are now undergoing treatment here and are dissatisfied, provided they come here before June 1. For instance, if you are afflicted with either Hydrocele, Stricture or Nervous Decline, our charge for curing either of which without any complications, is $25.00.
We will guarantee to cure you for $12.50, and accept the money in any way you wish to pay. We will also cure Contagious Blood Poison for $12.50, which is just half our regular fee. This liberal offer is made to enable those to be cured who have spent their money in doctored without relief and to show the many who have treated with dozens of physicians without benefit that we have the only methods that produce a life-long cure.

Contracted Disorders

Every case of contracted disorders we treat is thoroughly cured. Our patients have no relapses. When we pronounce a case cured, there is not a particle of infection or inflammation remaining, and there is not the slightest danger that the disease will return in its original form or work its way into the general system. No contracted disease is so trivial as to warrant uncertain methods of treatment, and we specially solicit those cases that other doctors have been unable to cure.

JOBS AND GRAFT IN BOND ISSUES.

Projects to Add Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars a Year to City's Running Expenses and to Fat Up Political Spoilsmen.

GRAFT, graft, graft—it is looming all over several of the propositions for bond issues.

Political contractors are working for the storm drain bonds. They would get the most of the money and the people would get the water and oil as in the past. What of the $400,000 already spent on storm drains? What good has it done the city? Ask the citizens whose property was damaged by the spill of sumpholes last winter.

The proposition to bond the city for $200,000 for new engine houses is in the interest of political firemen. They want more captaincies and lieutenantcies, jobs and graft. The proposed $200,000 expenditure is but the thin end of the wedge. The city will have to spend $100,000 a year to maintain these new institutions, if the bonds are voted. In ten years that would amount to $1,000,000. See the chance for rich pickings!

Strong opposition to the proposed bonds for remodeling the Central Police Station and the acquisition of other police stations exists in a quarter in which it would be least suspected. Taxpaying members of the police force, including both officers and patrolmen, while not openly outspoken in their opposition to the proposition, are privately doing what they can to defeat this bond issue, which means more expenses for the police department, more high-salaried officers, and graft. It means not merely the immediate expenditure of $50,000, but saddling on the city an added pay-roll of about $24,000 a year. In ten years this would cost our taxpayers $240,000.

The people are asked to vote for a $50,000 bond issue, and according to the terms of the bond election ordinance, that amount, if authorized, is to be expended in the following manner: $30,000 for repairs to the present headquarters of the department; $5,000 for the acquisition of sites and the construction of four sub-stations of five rooms each at the following locations: East, First and Chicago streets, Central and Vernon avenues, Dewey avenue and Pico street and Temple street and Belmont avenue.

"The proposed sub-stations are not needed at this time, but there is a much stronger argument against them than that," said a veteran officer yesterday—a man who has seen years of active service in the department and has long held a position of responsibility. "Suppose the bonds are voted and we get these sub-stations and suppose they cost only $5000 each, that would be the beginning of a steady drain upon the police department fund and would take money every month that could be used to far better advantage if otherwise expended.

"To man each of these new stations three desk sergeants would be required. Then there would have to be a commanding officer, probably a lieutenant or a captain, for there is a plan on foot to create such berths, and the salaries of these men together with the expenses of the various stations would amount to more than $500 per month. The expenses, salaries and all would probably exceed $600, but call it $500, that would make $2000 per month, or $24,000 a year, for the four new sub-stations."

These proposed bond issues are but the beginnings of extravagance. They demand millions more from tax-payers than appears on the surface. If the bonds are all carried the expenses of the city will be enormously increased for all time to come; tax-payers, large and small, will suffer while political pap-suckers grow fat.

Waterworks pay for themselves in revenue; when bridges and sewers are once built, that is the end of it; but these proposed engine houses and police stations and playgrounds would go on costing hundreds of thousands of dollars year after year without a stopping-place.

NEWSPAPER JAUNT.

Members of Utah Press Association Here to Take in the Sights of Southern California.

After a day spent among the flowers and orange groves of Riverside, the Utah Press Association, thirty-eight members representing it, came into Los Angeles over the Salt Lake line last evening. Headquarters are at the Lankerham.

They were tired and dusty travelers, and after seeking their beds sought their beds, preparatory to the start for San Diego, which will be made at 8:45 o'clock this morning.

The middle of next week, according to their present schedule. Said John A. Burt last evening: "We have been having an unprecedented good time, and I want to testify to every minute of pure enjoyment. At Riverside they treated us royally—gave us drives and automobile rides, and the oranges we could carry, winding up with an elegant spread for us at the Glenwood Hotel. We are delighted with Southern California. There's not a one in the party who is discontented."

Included in the list of guests are C. A. England and daughter, H. H. Fier, Feld and daughter, Miss Agnes Campbell, Mrs. Emily Adams, John A. Burt, Lollie E. Jaspersen, Parley P. Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Anderson, C. O. Elmquist, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bull, Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Gray, W. A. Radford and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jorgenson, C. A. Wilkinson, Dr. Middleton, H. C. Lockrie, A. W. Casey, Mrs. Buys and W. W. Rivers.

IN RIVERSIDE.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
RIVERSIDE, May 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Members of the Utah

Press Association were royally entertained here today by the city of Riverside. The party numbers forty-four. Committees from the newspapers and the Chamber of Commerce guided them around the city and entertained them with an elaborate luncheon at the Glenwood.

SLAPPED FACE OF TEACHER.

MOTHER OF BOY OBJECTS TO HIS PUNISHMENT.

For This Reason Little Irving Bilcombe Is Suspended from the Olive Street School and Mrs. Bilcombe Has Applied to Board of Education for His Reinstatement.

Because of his mother's temper, which led her to slap the face of a young lady teacher, Irving Bilcombe, twelve years old, is suspended from the Olive-street public school, and yesterday Mrs. Bilcombe appealed to the Board of Education to reinstate her boy.

As a champion for her son, Mrs. Bilcombe proved herself so aggressive, upon one occasion, when it was necessary for Irving to be punished, that the teachers in the Olive-street school refused to take any chance of a repetition of the assault, which recently took place upon the teacher.

The cause of all the trouble, in the first place, was the impudence of Irving, who talked, and when reprimanded, was impudent before all the other children, thus tending to loosen the bond of discipline which binds the varied individualities of the children in joint good conduct.

To uphold this discipline and as an example to the others, Irving was punished, though not severely. He at once left the schoolhouse, saying that his mother had told him to come home if he ever was punished. That same afternoon Mrs. Bilcombe returned with her son and "made a scene."

Meeting one of the teachers, it is claimed she attacked her, that she slapped the face of the teacher and used forcible language as to their right to punish her boy.

At it happened, the young lady who was assaulted was not the teacher who had punished Irving, nor in any way, it is said, responsible for the trouble. Mrs. Bilcombe did not go near the principal that afternoon, and after wreaking her vengeance upon one teacher, left the school with her son.

The next day Irving was sent back to the school by his mother as usual, but his teacher refused to have him in her class, and he was sent before the principal. An investigation was for the best interests of the school and for Irving himself, it was better he should not return, and then it was that sentence of suspension was passed and the boy sent home.

For a time the teachers were fearful that the mother would return and try again to relieve her mind by attacking some one of the teachers, but this did not happen. Much more sensibly, Mrs. Bilcombe has appealed to the Board of Education, and it is probable that an investigation will be ordered into the facts of the case.

CALIFORNIA OF OLD.

Quaint Songs and Dances of Mexico and Spain in Patio of Plaza Church Last Night.

The Old California held sway last evening in the patio of the Plaza Church, where a large crowd gathered to see and hear the old songs and dances of Mexico and Spain.

The patio, with its great palms and glimmer of electric lights here and there, and the quaint Mexican stage, all added to the flavor. A chorus of black-eyed, round-cheeked girls opened the affair, singing a "Hymno Español" Concha Castillo, a small child with bright eyes and curly hair, danced "El Abanico" (the fan), with dainty grace. Tiny three-year-old Juanita Larieux danced and sang "La Gata Negra," and was much admired at her own temerity. "Los Patos," sung and danced by Señorita Josefa Chavez and Mr. Herrera, was a particularly picturesque, in costume and gestures.

SKATING OUT OF SCHOOLS.

Pupils Pass Time in Rinks, Number Suspended.

Craze Strikes Los Angeles and "Poly" High.

Drastic Steps Necessary to Check Evil.

The roller-skating craze, which has caught Los Angeles with a dizzy whirl, is causing serious harm and a lot of trouble in the Los Angeles High School and Polytechnic High School.

More than a hundred pupils have "cut classes" in order to go round and round on the smooth floors of the rinks, training their feet instead of their intellects, and drastic measures were taken yesterday to put an end to this state of affairs.

The principals have been subjected to much anxiety. Absences have become frequent beyond all reason, and the tardy list has grown alarmingly. Fake illnesses afflict some of the pupils day after day, and all sorts of excuses are feigned to obtain leave of absence; then to the seductive skating places.

Seven of the chief transgressors were suspended from the two schools yesterday, and scores of others are on the anxious list. Heads of departments held special sessions yesterday. Pupils who habitually "cut" in order to attend the rinks will be dropped from the class rolls, at least until the end of the present term.

From the Los Angeles High School two girls and as many boys were given suspension papers yesterday, and the case of each was explained to the parents. In each instance the parents are said to have seen the justice of the edict which bars their children from attending the city schools until September.

ABSENT FOR WEEKS.

Explaining the situation, Prof. Housh, principal of the Los Angeles High School, said:

"Summary measures are necessary in dealing with this craze, which has taken such hold upon the scholars in our High School. We do not wish to be harsh, but already it has become necessary to suspend four of the offenders. In each case the pupil suspended has been absent from school nearly three weeks. It would have been impossible for these pupils to have made up their work before the end of the term, and I have given them a chance to skate the term out."

The suspension of the four pupils came after every means had been exhausted to induce them to take an interest in their studies.

The methods adopted to suspend each of the pupils is novel. The parents were called into the conference of the principal before anything was done. Papers were then issued to each father or mother, granting permission to take the child out of school until the end of the present school year. This will give an opportunity for the suspended pupils to attend a school outside of Los Angeles if they so desire. It is a way of letting them down easy.

When suspended, one well-known pupil of the High School said: "Well, I know what this means. My mother will take me to the country and I'll get a chance to drill. No more skating for me. It's all over."

The pupils are wondering who next is marked for the suspension papers, and much of the skating enthusiasm has been knocked out of them by the medicine given yesterday to those whose chief desire was to skate.

According to Prof. Housh, there has been a marked desire of late on the part of some of the very best pupils to "cut their classes." Sick headaches, toothaches, and nose-bleeds are some of the excuses offered.

No attention is paid to such excuses now at the High School, and the pretty maiden who longs for a spin on the rollers, and the stalwart youth who is plinking to hold her hand and whirl her across the smooth floor, are obliged to stay at their desks instead.

the effects of the skating craze, and the microbe has entered Occidental College and the University of Southern California. Yesterday several fair co-eds from U.S.C. spent the morning hours in a rink, and a few days ago a young lady of the school was hostess for a large party given at the same place.

DONNELL'S NEW HONOR.

field of entries, and Donnell went through the entire list without losing a set. In the final round he defeated F. H. Gates of Montclair High School by the score of 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

OFF FOR ENCAMPMENT.

Delegates of the G.A.R., the W.R.C. and Ladies of the G.A.R. Go to Redding.

The Southern California delegates to the department encampments of the G.A.R., W.R.C. and the Ladies of the G.A.R. left yesterday for Redding, where the annual meetings of the veteran body and allied organizations will be held, beginning tomorrow.

NURSING BOTTLE KILLS BABY.

Young One Bites Off Top and Swallows Glass and Nipple, but It's Not Human Baby.

This baby bit off the top of its nursing bottle and died. In its wee stomach were found the rubber nipple and the broken glass, piercing the mucous lining. It was only a three-month-old baby, but it had teeth so strong and long and sharp that at one crunch it shattered the nursing bottle. Not a human baby, you know, but a tiny coyote, brought up on malted milk.

The tragedy occurred yesterday morning at breakfast, when Johnny Kirby, who lives at No. 425 West Second street, snarled in the face of the coyote like a wolf, its ancient enemy. The little wild thing gave a lunge and a crunch, nipple and glass disappeared, and the milk splashed on Johnny's clothes. Death followed swiftly. Now the boy sits on the front steps and tries to sell Foxey, brother of the deceased, to the passers-by. He says it makes him feel bad to see a coyote 'round the house.

The little animals came from the hills beyond Glendale and were taken from their lair while the coyote was gone. Nothing but milk spoiled their whines for food ever since. Foxey is nearly four months old and keeps his leading chain taut most of the time. Since yesterday, however, the method of feeding the remaining baby has been changed. Nursing bottles have been thrown away, and the coyote's mouth is held open while his young master licks in the milk with a teat.

PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Mayor has asked representatives of the Municipal League to get an expression of opinion on raising the 200 limit from saloons, and increasing the license; his friends report him favorable to the plan.

Commissioner Mason made another effort yesterday to secure investigation of the Chutes Café, but failed for want of a second.

The Police Board voted yesterday to hold all future sessions on Tuesday evenings instead of in the forenoon.

Albert G. Bradley, sent to the penitentiary for attempting to kill then Gov. Smith, of the Soldiers' Home, in 1931, was yesterday adjudged insane.

Señor Eugenio Bustillo, one of the two Mexicans arrested through a comedy of errors at San José, yesterday had his deposition taken before Justice Pierce. Owing to the dangerous illness of his wife he is compelled to return at once to the City of Mexico.

On account of the legal holidays boys are crowding the Detention Home, and there is no way of disposing of their cases.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MAY LIFT THE SALOON LIMIT.

MAYOR FAVORS FREE-FOR-ALL AND HIGH LICENSE.

Municipal League Representatives Asked to Express Opinion on Raising Two-Hundred Bar Now on Saloons—Prohibitionists and Gothenburgers Show Teeth.

Mayor McAllister has asked representatives of the Municipal League to secure for him an expression from the people on the advisability of taking the 200 limit off saloons and increasing the license.

To his friends the Mayor has expressed himself as favoring this plan. He says it is the only way to break up the traffic in saloon licenses.

Conservation reigns among the liquor men; it is a case of dog eat dog. Two big breweries own a majority of the saloon licenses; the minimum value which they place on a license is $700 and a pledge to sell the beer of that brewery at 1 cent a glass.

This valuation aggregates at least $1,000,000 on the licenses held by these breweries. But, on the other hand, the more saloons the more beer sold. The sentiment of the prohibitionists and the anti-saloon element is already expressing itself in terms more forcible than elegant. They charge that the Mayor is league with the brewers and that he is trying to make this a wide-open town.

Already the Gothenburgers are showing their teeth. Their proposition is to reduce the number of saloons from 200 to 15. Commissioners Mason and Johnson have expressed themselves as favoring such a reduction. They are expected to oppose vigorously any attempt to raise the limit on the number of saloons.

Members of the Mayor's official family argue that removing the limit and increasing the license will reduce the number of saloons. They argue that by maintaining the 200 limit the city is fostering a trust.

"The trouble with that limit," said a member of the commission yesterday, "is that the breweries always keep the whole number of licenses working. In that way they control them. There are a number of first-class hotels here that would like to have a saloon license, but they cannot get one on account of the trust. If there were no limit on the number of saloons the keeper of a first-class hotel could go before the Police Board and get a license; he would not be forced to do business with the breweries."

"At the same time the increase in the monthly license tax should be sufficient to force some of the low divers in the Tiedlerlot to close. Under a close police supervision they could not make enough money to pay the license. The result would be that we would have fewer saloons and they would be in the hands of independent dealers instead of in those of the trust."

"The present policy is the worst that can be pursued," said a member of the commission yesterday. "This is one point of view. But there are others who say that taking off the limit would place Los Angeles at the mercy of the liquor trust; that the city would be as bad as San Francisco with its thousands of saloons, before the earthquake."

The argument is that if the limit is taken off, licensees a saloon keeper will not have the same incentive to keep his place respectable that he has now. At the present time a licensee is worth at least $700. If the limit is taken off it would not be worth nearly so much for the reason that a shift of record owner a saloon keeper could get a new license and raise the price of the license. He could afford to take more chances at running a tough joint.

Three years ago there was a slight discussion about raising the limit on saloons. At that time an agent of the East Side Brewery, who had been proposed to a member of the Council Finance Committee that the city issue fifty more licenses, or offer them for sale. He said his company would agree to take the entire fifty and to pay $10,000 each for them. This was at the time when the Council was fixing a higher license on restaurants and wholesale liquor stores.

At the City Hall one incident has been noted with interest by the politicians. Since the Mayor spoke to the Municipal League about taking off the limit he has had an unusually large number of saloon visitors. President Kaurich of the Los Angeles Brewing Company and Freddie Major of the Malar & Zobelean Company have been renewing their acquaintance with the Chief Executive.

But it is not the Mayor alone who is recipient of these friendly visits from the brewers. The license limit can be removed only by the Council, and the liquor men are not overlooking the opportunity.

From city officials it is impossible to get an expression of opinion now. All are waiting to see how the first initiation of taking off the limit is received by the people.

Present indications are that taking the limit from saloons will be made a campaign issue this fall. The argument used in its favor will be that it will break up the saloon and brewery trust here.

But brewers men themselves decline to discuss the suggestion. Whether they would consider the $1,000,000 in betwixt values which they stand to lose would be more than recompensed by the increased number of beer emporiums, is still a moot question.

MASON STILL HOSTILE.

WANTS SCALP OF CHUTES.

Police Commissioner Mason made another attempt yesterday to secure an investigation of the Chutes Café.

Mr. Mason charges that he visited the Chutes, one Sunday afternoon last month and saw fifty violations of the Police Board rules all taking place at the same time.

Again he failed to get a second to his mission for an investigation. Mayor McAllister said that he would be willing to ask the Chief of Police to make a report on the place, but Mr. Mason wanted Officer Stand brought before the board at once and cross-examined. He said that Stand knows all about the investigation and can give some interesting testimony.

Commissioners James and Hagan sided with the Mayor and neither investigation nor report was ordered. While the Chutes was under discussion the Mayor paid his respects to the evening papers. He said that the three twilight sheets are not giving the Police Commission a square deal and suggested that what the city needs just now is three good afternoon publications.

And then to rub it in the commission voted to hold its regular sessions in the evening.

This action was taken at the joint request of Commissioner Hagan and James. Both said that they are too busy men to give up the whole of the forenoon to Police Board business.

Commissioner Mason objected to the evening session programme. He said it would result in keeping Commissioner Johnson away from the meetings and that Mr. Johnson does not go out in the evenings.

Acting under instructions from the City Prosecutor, the wire-snipping crew of the street department will make its fourth onslaught today on the overhead wires in the central district. The only wires that now remain are in the new district south of Seventh street. The conduit ordinance provides that all wires in the conduit district must be under ground.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

OLD SOLDIER A SAD WRECK.

ONCE TRIED TO KILL GOVERNOR OF SOLDIERS' HOME.

Bradley's Life Ruined by Rum and New. After Serving a Term in State's Prison, He is Committed to the Highland Asylum for Insane. Hope for Him Yet.

Albert G. Bradley, the man who fired a shot at Gov. Smith of the Soldiers' Home in October, 1935, and was sentenced to serve two years at the State Prison, was yesterday committed to the insane asylum at Patton.

Bradley is now 64 years of age, and by his irregular life has made a wreck of himself. He remained at the Soldiers' Home from 1922 up to the time of the shooting, which was committed while Bradley was in a mentally disturbed state owing to drink. After serving his term in prison, he was sent to San Francisco for several years and then drifted back here.

Without friends or money this delinquent soldier sank into a melancholy condition, and threatened to take his own life. A short time ago he went to call upon ex-Gov. Markham to ask for his release in a last letter received back temporarily at the Soldiers' Home. When the learned that Bradley had thrown away his chance of being released Bradley became desperate and finally was arrested on the insanity charge.

At the time he appeared in the daily papers telling of Bradley being taken to the County Hospital, and of his being without friends. This met the eye of Mrs. E. Wilson of Melrose Junction, near Hollywood, and this lady addressed a letter to Bradley telling him that she would give him home and such light work as he might be able to do. But Judge Gibbs and the medical examiner did not think it wise to permit the old man to live at large in his present condition, and he was committed.

It is hoped that after treatment at the hospital the old man may be able to make a better ending of his life, through the kindness of Mrs. Wilson, than he has been willing to make of such chances heretofore.

Since his arrival in the City Bradley has been coping with a Salvation Army headquarters, until Dr. H. S. Keyes made the insanity complaint against him.

DETENTION HOME CROWDED. During the month of April 101 children were dealt with at the Detention Home, and this month the record will be larger. As if that were not discouraging enough the legal holidays have debared the Judge of the Juvenile Court from disposing of the cases, and so the unruly youngsters are congested in the detention home.

The month opened with twenty-six inmates and since that time sixty-one boys have been gathered in, and were not in the detention home. The record will be larger. BASKETBALL PLAY FOR "TIMES" CUP.

INTEREST in the struggle for the handsome Times Public School Basketball Championship Cup centers in the three teams in line for the coveted honor of holding the silver trophy for another year.

Thirtieth-street Washington - street and Thirtieth-street schools have qualified for the final round of games, and the fight is narrowing to a battle royal to be settled between veterans of two active seasons.

Girls of the Thirtieth-street school were defeated in a closely-contested game Monday night on the Thirtieth-street school grounds. Another game will be played Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the same grounds by the two teams, and should Washington street be victorious, Thirtieth-street will be out of the running.

Should the sturdy players of Thirtieth-street school win, another game will be necessary to decide the victor of the best two in three games. The "runner up" will play the Thirtieth-street team.

Ethel Webb of the Washington-street school is considered one of the brilliant players in the Public School Basketball League. She is captain and forward of her team. Mary Green is her team mate, and her brilliant work at forward has secured many baskets during the season.

Berna Pursley and Mable Palmer are guards, and though not as large as guards from several of the other schools, their quickness and coolness in a contest gives them an advantage. Faith Guy is an efficient center.

The Thirtieth-street school won the championship last season, and has held the trophy one year. This season the well-versed team seems a likely winner, and the girls are hopeful, and the rooters of the school are determined.

Esther Love and Isadore Gilmour are the forwards, and their work in a game is quick, decisive and accurate. They seldom miss a fair throw for the basket and are always under the ball. Eleanor Blevins and Myrtle Longstreet, the guards, work like a clock, and give excellent support to their forwards. Ivy Dawson is an experienced center. She has saved the day in many a hard-fought game by her determination never to give up until the last point is made.

Frances Whitesell, who has had much experience as guard, is also a valuable member of the team. The games this season have brought out large crowds and much of the success of the series of court battles is due to Prof. W. W. Tritt of the Thirtieth-street school, and Prof. Edward Dooland of the Washington-street school, who have engineered the sport.

The only run the locals got was on At's base on balls and Nagie's hard double to right field.

Say, he's got Joe Bailey skinned nine city blocks.

THE SMALL PROPERTY HOLDER'S INTEREST.

At the bond election to be held tomorrow it will be the right and the duty of every voter to exercise his highest and best judgment. The question of issuing new city bonds at this time for more than a million dollars is not one to be lightly decided. There should be an honest and fair expression of opinion on the part of the public. This, of course, cannot be had unless there is a full vote. Too often, important bond elections are decided by a ridiculously small minority of the total number of voters. Let every legal voter who can possibly go to the polls tomorrow, do so, in order that the election shall not go by default.

The small property holder should not vote indiscriminately for the bonds on the ground that he pays only a small tax and that therefore the aggregate burden upon him will be light in any event. The proposed bond issue is as much the affair of the man who pays a small tax as of him who pays a large one. The issuing of city bonds is in reality the placing of a blanket mortgage upon the property of all taxpayers, both large and small, in the city. If we are to continue bonding the city indefinitely, we cannot expect people to be coming here in so great numbers as they have come in the past, to buy property; for property encumbered by public mortgages, otherwise known as bonds, becomes less and less desirable as the bonded debt increases beyond certain reasonable limits.

The first question a newcomer asks upon pricing real estate in any city is, "What is the tax rate?" If the rate is forced up by running in debt through the constant floating of bonds for things that should be paid for out of the squandered revenues of the city, it becomes a millstone about the neck; and when Mr. Small Property-Holder wants to sell his little place he finds no buyers ready to play him even its cost. Such has been the experience of many a foolish municipality.

Any material increase of taxation would discourage the extension of industrial enterprises, and thus it would curtail the opportunities for employment in greater or less degree. If we continue running into debt indiscriminately, we shall thereby retard the growth of the city, and the small property owners will feel it as much as the large property owners.

Furthermore, the man who owns no real estate at all would quickly feel the effect of over-indebtedness. One effect, as noted above, would be shown in a lessening of the opportunities for employment; and the large proportion of non-property owners is composed of wage-earners. Another effect would be felt in increased rentals due to higher taxes and in increased prices for commodities, necessitated by the higher rentals.

In view of the large cost of the Owens River project (to which the city is committed, and is fortunate in being so committed) it is incumbent upon Los Angeles to restrict its bond issuing power as much as possible at this time. We should draw the line after the essentials, like the water, the sewers and the bridges, and should refuse to add an indebtedness for improvements which can be paid for out of the steadily increasing municipal revenues if these enormous sums raised by taxation every year were carefully and honestly administered.

If the city's affairs were managed as a private business is conducted—if a city dollar were made to go as far as a household dollar. Will not taxpayers insist on more economy at the City Hall and less willingness there to spend all their money and then rush into debt to fill up the holes? Will they vote to be taxed over again for things they have been taxed enough to pay for this very year?

TILLMAN'S "THIRD DAY."

At least one thing stands out tolerably clear in the haze of this modern comedy of "Much Ado About Nothing," which has been in progress at the national capital for the past four or five days. This is the fact that Senator Tillman, the fiery, untamed, and untamable, is no longer the special, the authorized, the potential custodian of the Railroad Rate Bill in the American House of Lords. It is a puzzle to the closest reader of the columns and columns of official statements and contradictions to discover precisely what the future is all about. The President, the Attorney General, Senators Tillman, Allison, Bailey, Chandler, and others, have had their say; and, as a matter of fact, they have had a great deal to say. But the only thing that seems to be definitely decided is that "Pitchfork" is down and out. With Cardinal Wolsey, he may well exclaim:

"Farewell! a long farewell, to all my greatness!
This is the state of man; today he puts forth
The tender leaves of hopes; tomorrow
And bears his blushing honors thick
Upon him;
The third day comes a frost, a killing frost,
And when he thinks, good easy man,
His greatness is a-ripening, nips his root,
And then he falls, as I do."

There isn't any question about the killing frost in Brother Tillman's case. He has got it, all right, in the place where he generally wears his celluloid collar. We all remember well enough when he put forth the tender leaves of hope. The President kindly assisted him in sprouting them. We also remember when Tillman blossomed and bore his blushing honors. The frost, in particular, is very much in evidence, and his root is certainly nipped rather effectively; hence his fall from his proud position as steersman of the rate bill.

Discussion of the bill in the Senate seems to have degenerated into a profitless wrangle over non-essentials, in which the real issues have been submerged and practically lost sight of. Unfortunately, as it appears, the President has been drawn into the bootless jangle. Perhaps the opponents of the bill are past masters in the art of juggling with issues which they do not wish to meet fairly and squarely. It hardly seems probable that the Hepburn bill will pass the Senate as it came to that body from the House. The latter body would not know its offspring if it should be sent back with all the parti-colored amendments which have been offered in the Senate. While agreement is as yet far off, it is a fact realized in both houses of Congress that adjournment of that body without passing some form of rate bill will create both indignation and condemnation from one end of the land to the other.

HIGHER TAXES.

To vote all the proposed improvement bonds would be equivalent to adding five cents on a hundred to the annual tax rate. If the improvements are paid for out of the general revenue fund there will be no increase in the rate.

Every taxpayer who votes for the fire, police and park bonds votes to assess himself with additional taxes for something that he has been receiving for the rate he now pays.

Under the city charter the tax rate for current revenue cannot be greater than $1 on each $100 of assessed valuation. The rate for several years has been the limit; that rate has paid for police substations and for fire houses and for parks. This year the increase in the total revenue will be about $500,000 at the present tax rate. Just as much will be collected for current revenue if these bonds are voted, and there will be an additional tax to raise the $750,000 needed to pay the interest and sinking fund on the bonds.

Every dollar paid for bonds is raised by an additional tax over and above the dollar rate. This year the bond tax was 20 cents. If this proposed $1,500,000 bond issue is ratified the rate for next year will be five cents higher than without it.

The case with water bonds is different. The receipts from water will pay all the interest on the bonds and eventually the bonds themselves.

A CITY FOR SALE.

"Los Angeles is a city for sale." Such is the full faced headline over an article in the Denver Republican of Friday, May 11. Said article purports to be a letter written from Los Angeles under date of May 6. It is signed by J. G. Higgins, who claims he is from the Hub of the Universe.

The three cities—Boston, Denver, and Los Angeles—are far enough apart to treat each other fairly. They can hardly be said to be rivals from any point of view. Yet this Higgins, from the Hub, writing to Denver on the mountain crest, is one of the most ornery prevaricators of this or any other century. Higgins from the Hub writes to Denver on the mountain crest that Los Angeles is a city for sale. He proves this by the statement that forty-two columns of the Los Angeles Times of the date on which he wrote are devoted to houses for sale. But where his descent from Ananias crops out is in the statement that "there is more pneumonia, rheumatism and insanity in California than in any other State in the Union," and that while our "sunshine deserves a brovier type the shadow should be mentioned in capitals."

This whole effusion by Higgins from the Hub deserves no word of attention; but the Denver newspapers, since the destruction of San Francisco by fire, have been virulently impudent and grossly inhuman in their attacks upon California. While the big city by the Golden Gate was still smoldering in its ruins, these Colorado papers split their lungs shouting about the benefit this terrible calamity would bring to the State of Colorado and to the city of Denver in particular.

Now there is no citizen of the State of California who has any quarrel with Colorado. Any legitimate prosperity that can come to the State among the snows or to the city of Denver particularly, they are welcome to. The growth of Los Angeles is rapid enough in all conscience to make it a little more than a fair game to be wafted here from the top of the Rockies.

It is true we have a city here largely for sale.

The trouble is we can't get it ready for the market quick enough to meet the demand of the great army of new settlers rushing in from all quarters of the country.

A HORRID EXAMPLE.

We are doing the best we can. We are building about six hundred new houses a month, and have been doing so for about twenty-four months past. We have a good many houses for sale if it is true, and we are building more day by day. The owners of one tract advertise in The Times that they are under contract to construct for the next twenty-four days three houses a day to meet the call for homes in this particular tract.

The trouble with Denver seems to be that while it is a city for sale, it has no buyers.

Denver seems to be in many respects too much like India's coral strand. Every prospect there pleases, but some of the Denverites—the anarchists and labor-union toughs—are so vile that the intelligent, law-loving and God-fearing people who are crowding into Los Angeles and clamoring for a bigger and still a bigger city for sale, could not be led to stop in Denver or near it.

God has given to California a State unmatched in a thousand attractions of climate, fertility, natural beauty and wealth. There has been atracted here a population of high intelligence, of loyalty to the American government, of industry, of providence and of liberality. This population believes in American principles, in one law for all and special favors to none, of an open shop, a square deal, a fair field for every man and special favor to no man. Here in Los Angeles we have held in control the bomb throwers and rioters, who have made life unsafe in Denver.

When Denver shall imitate the good example of Los Angeles and maintain liberty under law, become a thoroughly American city where the laws of the United States are operative and effective, and will cleanse her skirts of the union labor ruffians who make life and property unsafe possessions within her borders, the natural attractions of that city and of the surrounding State will no doubt make not only a city for sale but a city that can be sold.

We have a city for sale and we can sell it. It is being sold about as rapidly as we can put it on the market. Poor envious Denver looking at her vacant lots, for sale cheap, and with no buyers in sight, would better tear a whole handful of leaves out of the book which Los Angeles has written in the past twenty years and learn carefully the lessons of the building a city on American principles which are taught in every line in all those pages. Then perhaps her real estate will be saleable, and saleable at prices somewhere within selling distance (with a telescope) of the prices that Eastern people pay here after passing by Denver.

THE DEMAND FOR MONEY.

The weekly bank statement made on Saturday by the New York clearinghouse is about the best which has been published for several months. It shows a surplus reserve above the legal limit of a little more than $10,000,000. Week by week for months past the surplus above this legal limit has wavered just around the zero point, going below zero nearly as frequently as above it. The amount shown in last Saturday's statement is a very comfortable one. It will inspire the business community all over America with renewed confidence.

This increase in capital has come from two sources; first, the liquidation carried on for two or three weeks in the stock market, and second, large imports of gold from Europe. The inspiring influence in both cases is the same, a desire on the part of the banks to strengthen themselves to the greatest possible extent against any uneasiness that might arise in the public mind as a result of the enormous property losses suffered by fire in San Francisco. The purpose, too, is the same. There is, too, a general effort on the part of the financial institutions of the country to provide funds for the rebuilding of the destroyed metropolises.

When the insurance companies of the East, as well as the men who have lost heavily in the fire in San Francisco, realized the extent of their losses the best securities in hand were pressed upon the market in order to convert them into cash, with the result of creating almost a panic in the stock market. But losses had to be met, and they were faced resolutely without a moment's hesitation by clear headed business men.

Again, just as the banks in all the Pacific Coast cities, when they realized the extent of the loss in San Francisco, at once called in nearly all their deposits with eastern banks, in order to be well provided against contingencies here, so the eastern banks called in their enormous deposits with banks in different cities in Europe in order to repair the inroads upon their funds.

The result of all these wise precautions on the part of bankers and insurance companies is that the amount of ready coin in sight in America is the largest probably ever known. The shilling of the frontier, nor why the country are thoroughly provided and able to meet at once any call for money likely to arise.

The plan proposed by Senator Newlands to have the government guarantee bonds to rebuild San Francisco probably will not be carried out. There seems to be a strong undercurrent of feeling against it among the great majority of the Senators, if not in the House of Representatives. The other plan to have the government grant a rebate upon all building material imported to go into reconstructing the burned city will also probably fail. That cannot be done without opening the whole question of the tariff wide open for a general discussion. The present generation will not need to be told what that means.

In fourteen years we have had two experiences in this line and know that the tariff discussion once opened is almost impossible to stop. It is also well known that any agitation looking toward a change in the tariff must have a disastrous effect upon general business. This is a result that no combined effort on the part of the American people could prevent. It is a natural law and must work out its natural results.

But it is pretty well understood that the treasury without any new legislation will help very materially in the rebuilding of San Francisco. The banks of the burned city have among their assets immense sums of government bonds. It is stated on excellent authority that the treasury will take these bonds as collateral security and advance the banks ready money to be used in the rebuilding of the city.

The resources of the San Francisco banks are enormous. There is one savings bank in that city whose deposits amount to something like $80,000,000. That is as much as the total deposits in all banks of all kinds in the city of Los Angeles. This bank holds probably nearly $30,000,000 in United States bonds. Of course a large part, indeed nearly all the deposits of that, as of all other savings banks, are loaned on mortgages on real estate. These cannot be recalled until they are due, and the bank will be loath to recall them when they are due unless the borrower is ready to pay them of his own volition. But if the government will come forward and take as collateral security its own bonds, and will advance to this institution nearly $30,000,000 in gold coin, it will go a long way toward relieving any possible strain on that institution.

Very bit of new information coming to us is all in the same direction, going to show that the financing of the great task of rebuilding the burned metropolises of the Coast is practically done. Those which at first glance seemed the greatest obstacles prove to be small ones and the soonest removed of all.

A LYRIC.

Oh, within I could not understand
The sob within the throat of spring—
The shilling of the frontier, nor why
The birds so passionately sing.

That was before your beauty came
And stooped to teach my soul desire.
When on these mortal lips you laid
The magic and immortal fire.

I wondered why the sea should seem
So gray, so lonely, and so cold;
The scarlet autumn pines their pride
In winter so forlornly cold.

I wondered what it was could give
The shilling of the frontier, nor why
The glory of the mountainside.

I could not tell why you should dream
And worship at the evening stream;
And yet must go with eager feet
Where danger and where splendor are.

I could not guess why men at times
Beholding beauty, should go mad
With joy or sorrow or despair
Or some unknown delight they had.

I wondered what they could receive
From Time's inexorable hand
So full of loveless and doom.
But now, ah, now I understand!
(Bless Karma, in the May Atlantic.)

Single Entry.

There is a certain young business man of Baltimore, not long married, who bequeathed him of a device to curb the growing extravagance of his wife. "Now, Margaret," said he, producing a neatly ruled memorandum book, "for some time you've been spending the money I give you for the household expenses, not to speak of your own personal expenses, in a somewhat loose and haphazard manner. So I've got this little book for you. You'll find that a keeping of your accounts will tend to a more economical disbursement of our funds." And the husband explained how the receipts were to be entered on this side and the expenditures on the other, thus affording an itemized statement of the monthly balances.

The young wife took the suggestion in good part and at once began to keep a book as directed.

At the end of the first month she had kept the book so well that her husband said she was "a perfect little bookkeeper."
"Oh, everything," she said, "is perfectly simple."
"Dick," took her by the hand and glanced at her book with a look of astonishment.
"On one side," from Richard, he said, "I spent it all."

VALUE DOUBLES IN YEAR

Real estate values in Los Angeles have doubled in the last year, according to a report from the Los Angeles Real Estate Board. The report states that the average value of property in Los Angeles was $10,000 in 1932, and has risen to $20,000 in 1933. This increase is attributed to the rebuilding of San Francisco and the resulting demand for housing and commercial property in Los Angeles.

JAP-A-LAC
OAK or NATURAL for Refrigerators

You cannot be too careful about keeping your refrigerator in a sanitary condition. The moisture and food make it unsanitary, and unless it is kept in perfect condition it will breed disease.

The outside of your refrigerator should be JAP-A-LAC-ED at least once a year. It would be better to give it one coat in the spring, and one in the fall. JAP-A-LAC preserves the wood, and protects it from the atmosphere. Unwisely, black mottled places caused by moisture, should never be allowed to show. Keep your refrigerator properly JAP-A-LAC-ED, and it will always look like new.

A few cents spring and fall will do it.

A WARNING AGAINST THE DEALER WHO SUBSTITUTES.

Some dealers will tell you when you ask for JAP-A-LAC: "We don't handle advertised articles. They cost you more, because the consumer pays for the advertising."

What a silly statement to make to an intelligent person. The fact is this: Any article of daily necessity, which is extensively advertised, must be the best, or the public will not buy it. What do you think about Ivory Soap, Sapallo and Uneda Biscuits? Are they not the most extensively advertised of their class? So is JAP-A-LAC. Be sure you get it.

ically together all the way, as the final score showed. Carper's game doubtless has been far the best he had. He not made two runs of 61 each, and these helped his game average very much. It was 112-54, while Kennedy's average was 114-54, and he had high runs of 44, 31, 27 and 25. He played a consistent game with money and fast speed, and then he would back up for very small scores.

The men will play 200 points this evening and expect to finish the match tomorrow evening with the final 300.

No admission is charged and all lovers of billiards are invited. The two games will be played at grand average of 5-2-6, and Carper's is 2-6-6.

Mrs. Humphry Ward

Henwick's Career

MRS. HUMPHRY WARD stands with Thomas Hardy and George Meredith in the front rank of living writers of fiction. Her novels are not among the books to be put aside after reading—they are books which demand a permanent place in the library.

Mrs. Ward's new novel is a story of a man dominated by ambition—a story of two women of strikingly contrasting types. It is the record of a struggle both material and moral—and it is one of those rare stories whose ending is not only happy and right, but logical and true to life.

times I had my doubts if she could stand it. As for the race home, it looks as though it will have to be postponed."

Before La Paloma started from Honolulu, Commodore MacFarlane made a wager with the corporation owning the C. Allen that the yacht would beat the trader. The yacht got away a little in advance of the Allen and did not see her again until those on board sighted her as they were beating up from Pigeon Point light, under reefs. As soon as Commodore MacFarlane made out the Allen he ordered all reefs shaken out and it was a race for "the gate." The Allen had a free wind and it looked as though she would win, but La Paloma was forced and won by a scant two hours.

BILLIARD PLAY.

Carney Again Defeats Kennedy in Balk Line Match, but Is Only Three Points Ahead.

The 14.3 ball line match for the championship of Southern California, which is played at Berry's, will without doubt be the most closely contested event ever seen in this State. If the two nights' play already gone through with a criterion. Last night Monday night Carney beat Kennedy by 302 to 300 and last night Kennedy defeated Carney on the 14.3 by 302 to 300, and counting the two games is now only three points behind. Such close play has never been witnessed here and the several hundred enthusiasts who watched the game last night were on their toes all

The play was not very speedy, for it took thirty-six innings to finish the game, but the interest never flagged a moment, for both players were prac-

Carney at the latter overhauled him and in the sixty-fifth inning ran out with Kennedy but 3 to go. The grand total was 10-6, with Carney having 187 Points, Kennedy, 352; Carney, 20 High runs, Kennedy, 61; Kennedy, 44 Hits, Carney, 39; Kennedy, 10 Errors, Carney, 5-36. Average for second night's play, Carney, 9-20-38; Kennedy, 8-23-35. Kennedy has taken the lead in the night game when Carney went in for the fifty-eighth inning, the match would have been tied had it not been so evenly balanced over witnessed on local radio, but many spectators left the hall because they thought Carney was losing his best against Kennedy. Carney, before playing, looked at the score card and then, after making one point more than he had lost, took an extra shot. After the game he offered to bet $25 that he would defeat Kennedy, but he was told that he could not. Carney is after a bet on himself and as soon as he gets it will go after Kennedy.

The contestants will play for 300 points tonight at Berry's billiard parlor.
